Hello! My name is Tina, my Chinese name has a good meaning, Xiao means smile. I am a sophomore majoring in BA. I am an enthusiastic and outgoing person and also take the initiative to share useful content with people around me. I will do my job well and try my best to help my classmates in class.

This semester I will take MGS3701 and MGS3001 to enhance my programming skills and try using Python for data analysis. Previously, I have been exposed to some projects and competitions and gained some experience. I am interested in Human Resource Management, and I hope to find the strengths of each person's job and allocate work reasonably. Learning data analysis is helpful for the field that interests me. Thus, I want to continue learning more contents to gain richer knowledge. As the TA of course, this motivates me to learn and practice, and I look forward to making progress this semester!
